I've worked in microsoft since I was practically a baby. Computers act on my command, ~~I am but a man but I have been given the power of a God, the God of wires and code.~~

I am a man, but I've been given the power of Gof, the God of wires and code

~~Ever~~ since I have had memory I've coded , I've coded until my fingers bleed, until my eyes hurt and ~~cry~~ [crying] blood, until my ears get sore from listening to iofi music, until my very existence is reduced to inputs, outputs and exceptions. I am the single "human" closest to divinity since Dhali Lama, this curse was cast upon me because I suspect that in my past I was Osama Bin Laden's ~~in my past~~ life and my karma is negative, but I have overcome the curse and harnesed it's power. Hire me please.
